

Playing it Forward is an on-going program where the Louisville Sports Commission partners with local organizations to collect new, outgrown and gently used sports equipment and distribute it to youth for whom cost is a barrier.

Since the program's inception in 2017, nearly 20,000 pieces of equipment and wearables were collected and redistributed to local kids.

For more information, contact Lisa Mills at lmills@louisvillesports.org or 502-814-0200

Programming provided by the Louisville Sports Commission is a Kentucky-based 501c(3), as part of its Louisville Active Initiative

